

Data Privacy Policy

The protection and security of your personal data is important to us. We therefore strictly adhere to the rules of the data protection regulation. If you would like to find out more about the processing of your personal data, please read through this document.

1. Data transmission / data logging

Whenever you visit our website, the webserver may collect information that your browser sends ("Log Data").

This Log Data may include information such as your computer's Internet Protocol ("IP") address, browser type, browser version, the pages of our Site that you visit, the time and date of your visit, the time spent on those pages and other statistics.

In addition, we may use third party services such as Google Analytics that collect, monitor and analyze this.

2. Use of personal data

Personal data is processed and collected on our website only as far as you have actively provided that data, e.g. by registering yourself. Indirect personal data is not stored or processed, except the IP-address that is technically necessary for offering this service.

Your personal data is disclosed to third parties only if this is necessary for carrying out the contract or if you have given your prior consent (for example newsletter). You have the right to revoke your consent at any time, effective from that point forward (for example per Email).

3. Right to information about data and to correction and deletion of data

You have the right at any time to request information about your stored data, and to have it corrected or deleted, or any other right you have under the conditions set forth in the Data Protection Act (DSG 2018).

4. Data security

The personal data you provided to us will be secured by taking all technical and organizational security measures so that they are inaccessible to unauthorized third parties. When sending very sensitive data or information, it is recommended to use the post office, as complete data security cannot be guaranteed by e-mail.

5. Right to lodge a complaint

If you believe that the processing of the data relating to you violates data protection law provisions, you can contact the Austrian data protection authority, Wickenburggasse 8, 1080 Wien.

6. WordPress, Google Analytics and Cookies

As explained in the section „Data transmission / data logging“, the webserver may log information from you. In order to avoid repetition of information, please open the Terms and Conditions on our website and read the section „Data protection, WordPress and Google Analytics cookie Note“

7. Changes to this Privacy Policy

The policies to protect your personal information might be updated from time to time. Please check this document from time to time in order to stay up-to-date. If the policies substantially change the collection, the use and/or the transfer of your personal data that you have provided to us, we will alert you to it by providing a clear and visible reference on the website. By using this website, you agree to the terms of this privacy statement for the protection of personal data.

In case you have any questions about this data protection policy, please contact us via our contact page or send us an email to office@aromainfo.at or call us under +43 316 681500.
